

Calling All Mystery Readers

You are invited to surprise our class by being a virtual “mystery reader.” Virtual mystery readers will sign up to be a surprise reader to our class via Zoom. We love having surprise readers in our classroom. A mystery reader can be a parent, sibling, relative, or special friend.

Mystery readers will read to the class on Fridays at 1:20pm or 3:15pm. If this day or time does not work, please let me know and we will see what can be arranged. Mystery Readers are asked to read aloud a favorite story and answer some questions from the students. Please expect your mystery reader time slot to last about 10-15 minutes.

Please find a date on a Friday that works for you and fill out the bottom portion of this page. The schedule will fill up fast, so please give me at least two date choices. I’ll do my best to accommodate one of your choices. When returning your choices, please send the bottom portion of this page in a sealed envelope so that your visit remains a mystery! I will send each mystery reader an email confirming your date and time.

Remember this is a mystery to our class. Try not to tell your child when or who will be reading to our class. I will send an email to the mystery reader the week before the reading, asking you to write three clues about themselves. These clues will help students solve the mystery of who may be reading to the class.

I hope you can participate in our “Mystery Reader” program!
